

We take the 'ew' out of vermicomposting!

Providing household and classroom vermicomposting education and support.

The addition of red wiggler composting worms to your Garden Tower will help ensure that your vertical garden flourishes. Red wigglers will quickly and efficiently turn your kitchen scraps into nutrient rich compost, upon which your plants will feast and thrive. Your red wigglers will work harder and more efficiently, if, they are provided with an appropriate environment within which to live, called bedding material. Quality bedding material plays an important role in reproduction rates, moisture and odour control. Coconut Coir, a 100% natural and renewable product is an excellent choice for vermicomposting bedding material. Keeping your worms active, hydrated and feeding will ensure a productive and satisfying Garden Tower experience. For your convenience, Garden Tower Worm Kits are available for just $49!
